

SCHOOL CHILDREN RUSH PRESIDENT AND MRS. HARDING

Run Over Guard and Shower Party with Flowers

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Eight thousand school children gathered in American Legion park today to serenade President and Mrs. Harding as a feature of Washington's music week, broke away from their teachers and thru a marine guard tore the program was concluded and rushing food naturally but wildly across the field laid down a barrage of flowers on the presidential party.

What had started as a quiet serenade was turned into a wild rush of eager children when each anxious to present either to the president or Mrs. Harding a bouquet, took the short course of hurrying the flowers at Mr. and Mrs. Harding. The president and his wife withstood the barrage bravely at first, but soon the bouquets began coming so fast and thick they were compelled to ward off the rain of blossoms.

The children had been massed for the serenade in the right center and left field bleachers of the ball park. Parents and others interested in music week festivities were in the grand stand.

President and Mrs. Harding occupied a small improvised stand near the center of the field. Most of the program which included songs by the children and numbers by the United States marine band and two army bands had gone off as scheduled. Then came a number designated on the program as "The President's Surprise."

It proved to be a drill by several hundred little tots of kindergarten age who after completing their exercises gathered around the presidential stand and seated themselves on the grass.

The president spoke and shook hands with a number of them. The sight of the little ones basking in the presidential favor was too much for the older children and with a vivid whoop they rushed from the bleachers on the field. Altho marines stationed before the stands had stopped the Germans at Belleau wood, they found themselves helpless when charged by thousands of rushing children.

Roy Gives Crowd Clue.

Then a boy in the rear, concluding that it was hopeless for him to try to hand his flowers to the president let go with a big bunch of daisies which sailed over the crowd and landed square on the president's shoulder, that gave the others the idea they needed, and soon the air was filled with flying flowers, single blossoms, bouquets and great bunches.

When the flowers in their hands were all thrown the children picked up those which had fallen about the stand and handed them to the president and Mrs. Harding. Soon Mrs. Harding's arms were full and the president had an armful that covered his shoulder and rolled off over his head, covering his high silk hat on the floor behind him. Meanwhile the children nearest were seeking to shake hands with Mrs. Harding and one boy more insistent than his companions hung on to the president's coat tail until his request was granted.

The president dug down in a heap of flowers and brought forth his silk hat, Mrs. Harding still smiling replaced her eye glasses which had fallen off early in the barrage and the presidential party prepared to leave after the director still almost speechless had mumbled that he "guessed the rest of the program is off."

The director added that he was sorry the next number, Mrs. Harding's favorite song, "The End of Perfect Day," could not be sung and apologized profusely. The president smiled and declared:

"That's all right. No harm done." And with Mrs. Harding left the park as a final volley of flowers picked up from the dust of the ball field was thrown at him at the gate.

PETITION FILED IN BANKRUPTCY AGAINST FIRM

Old Brokerage Firm is in Financial Difficulties

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 31.—One of the oldest and largest stock brokerage firms trading on the New York curb market, Jones and Baker, was plunged into financial difficulties when three creditors today filed a petition in bankruptcy and shortly afterwards the curb suspended the firm.

The curb had been secretly investigating its affairs for a week. While the assets and liabilities were not given in the petition, official estimates of the liabilities ranged from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

The company had nearly ten thousand customers, accounts here and in nine large branch offices in other cities. Officials of the company declared their belief that the firm was solvent. Counsel for the petitioners, whose claims totaled $3,500 said the action was taken as a result of newspaper publicity to prevent disorderly liquidation of assets which would have meant ruin to the firm's customers.

Immediately after the appointment of Alfred C. Cox, Jr., as receiver by federal judge Goddard, the firm issued a statement denying that it was insolvent and declaring that "with a careful and prompt liquidation of our assets none of our customers will suffer a loss and we will be able to pay 100 cents on the dollar."

To Conserve Books. Because of numerous irregularities resulting from some of the recent brokerage failures, representatives of the district attorney's office visited the firm's general offices to arrange for a conservation of the books and of the other records. It was announced later that the books and records would not be removed from the jurisdiction of the court.

Wall street was filled with rumors that the bankruptcy proceedings resulted from pressure exerted by the New York stock exchange authorities after complaints against the firm had been lodged with the exchange. The firm, however, had no direct connection with the New York stock exchange and had never had the ticker service of this organization.

Jones and Baker was a partnership composed of William R. Jones and Jackson B. Sells. It was formed eleven years ago in Chicago and had maintained headquarters in New York for about ten years. Branch offices were operated in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Baltimore, Cleveland and Kansas City, Mo., the office in the last named city having just been established.

The firm had a weekly payroll of about $25,000 and was said to have had extensive bank loans. The banks carrying the loans stated today, however, that they were amply secured with high grade collateral.

CHAMPAIGN COUNTY SHERIFF SEIZES LIQUOR; IS IN BAD

One Judge Orders its Return; Another Disagrees

(By The Associated Press)

DANVILLE, Ill., May 31.—Sheriff John M. Ray of Champaign county, is in a quandary as the result of seizing 56 quarts of whisky from John Hirschfeld, soft drink surveyor of Champaign, on a search warrant Circuit Judge Franklin Boggs, of Urbana, held the seizure was not valid and ordered the sheriff to return the liquor to Hirschfeld. The sheriff refused to comply with the court's order, and was cited for contempt, but when arraigned before Judge Boggs today, the contempt proceedings were continued until next Monday.

Today Sheriff Ray appeared before United States District Judge George English in this city who issued an order commanding the sheriff to present the Hirschfeld liquor in his court September 3. He is apprehensive that Judge Boggs will order him to lock himself up in the Urbana jail for contempt next Monday.

COMMITTEE STOPS FURTHER CHANGES IN ROAD BOND BILL

Votes Against Adding Any More Mileage to Measure

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 31.—A halt was called this afternoon by members of the house roads and bridges committee on the amending of the senate $100,000,000 road bond bill and adding of many miles of hard roads to the routes originally proposed.

Republican committeemen, with one or two Democrats had consulted with Governor Small before the meeting and when several house members appeared in committee to get choice plums for their constituents they were turned down. The only roll call showed a 14 to 11 vote against adding further mileage.

Though successful in rejecting these amendments, the administration leaders failed to get the bill out of committee today. Representatives Ed Ryan, Republican Lawrenceville, moved at 4 o'clock to report it favorably, but he was ruled out of order by Chairman Frank McCarthy, who said the house was about to meet and that many members should not be denied a chance to express their views.

The next announced meeting to consider the road bill is set for 2 p. m., Tuesday, when an open hearing will be held and both proponents and opponents will address the committee.

Amendments were dropped in an attempt to have the journal corrected provisions considered faulty by bond attorneys, and which provided that interest on the bonds be paid semi-annually instead of yearly.

This afternoon the senate corrected its journal of last Thursday when the road bill was passed to show that Senator Essington, Republican, Streator had given notice he would move on the next legislative day to reconsider the vote. He had failed this morning in an attempt to have the journal show that eight senators obtained unanimous consent to have them recorded as voting and then departed to catch trains, as was the case Thursday.

Senator Essington's motive in desiring the later change it was pointed out was that in case the constitutionality of the bill ever is brought before the supreme court the record will be plain. Whether it is legal for members to be recorded as voting on a measure when they are not present as their names are called is a matter of dispute.

By a 28 to 14 vote, the senate tonight passed the Wright bill prohibiting daylight saving in Illinois unless it is done by federal statute. Three Chicago senators, Marks, Carroll and Ryan, voted with practically all down state members for the bill which now goes to the house.

Senator Barbour, Republican, Evanston, declared the idea of downstate dictating to Chicago on the daylight saving question was preposterous and selfish, and Senator Essington joined with him on the roll call, although remarking that he did not favor daylight saving.

Sensors from "Egypt" with the exception of Otis Glenn, Republican, Murphysboro, voted to make Chicago abolish its "daylight saving ordinance, enacted after a popular referendum had carried in the city.

Governor Smith Hears Arguments on Repeal

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., May 31.—Governor Smith today listened inscrutable of feature, but attentive to a flood of oratory for and against his signing of the legislative repeal of the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act. For four hours, and thirty four minutes, with one five minute interlude, speakers in turn presented their arguments.

When both sides had talked their fill and weighted him down with briefs, the governor walked silently from the room without having betrayed by a single gesture or a word the answer to the momentous question:

"Will he sign or veto?" His decision will be announced sometime between tonight and midnight Sunday at which hour the repeal bill if the governor does not act, will automatically die.

The great importance of the decision he is to make was driven home by speakers for both sides with all the fervor and earnestness at their command.

The principal arguments of the enemies of the repeal who numbered in all about 30 speakers, were that to sign the measure would be to turn loose on the state a gang of bootleggers, bandits and crooks of every description, to "nullify" the Eighteenth Amendment to "secede" from the union and to deprive the federal government of the most powerful instrument now being used to enforce prohibition.

The principal arguments of the proponents of repeal who speak with a long address by United States attorney William Hayward of New York in which he pleaded with the governor to veto the measure so as to continue the government in full possession of state aid, declared necessary for anything like adequate enforcement of the prohibition law.

Europe Must Clean House and Get Down to Fundamentals

(By The Associated Press)

JOLIET, Ill., May 31.—Barriers to trade must be moved and Europe must clean house and get down to fundamentals before America can render any financial assistance either as a nation or individuals, E. C. Heidrich, Jr., of Peoria, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association declared in an address before the Joliet association of commerce tonight.

Mr. Heidrich recently returned from a European trip of several months. He headed the Illinois Manufacturers' association delegation to the International Chamber of Commerce in Rome in March. He found laborers and farmers apparently as well nourished as before the war.

Prices thruout Europe except of goods and the cost of labor no longer are low but closely approach American prices. "After considering what we could see and hear," said Mr. Heidrich, "we were brought to the conclusion that America must ask the nations of Europe to remove the arbitrary barriers to trade and must clean house, and get down to genuine fundamentals before America can deem it wise to render financial assistance either as a nation or as individuals."

"Barriers have been erected at each frontier against international trade and are so far from being self sufficient that these barriers must be removed before even a beginning of permanent restoration can be established."

He said taxes and regulations at the frontiers make import business almost impossible. The occupation of the Ruhr district by the French and Belgians had made it necessary for Austria to get coal from Poland and shipments must pass thru Czechoslovakia where the regulations demand that coal passing thru that country must be reloaded at the border.

The Polish people, he said, are firmly on their feet but not in a position to make war on Russia, Germany, Poland, Austria, France and Belgium seemed to be cultivating every foot of ground, he said, but manufacturing plants thruout western Europe are doing nothing or show only small activity.

TEMPORARY CHARGE OF KU KLUX KLAN IS ASSUMED BY COURT

Stops Expenditure of All Funds of Order for Present

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., May 31.—The Fulton county superior court today assumed temporary control of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, ordered temporary discontinuance of the expenditure of its funds and set June 9 to hear a motion for the appointment of a receiver for the order.

This action followed filing of a petition by David M. Rittenhouse, of Philadelphia and others alleging gross mismanagement of the Klan's funds by Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans and his associates, charged that he and Emperor William Joseph Simmons had turned the Klan into a "personal machine for the enrichment and personal aggrandizement" of themselves, and declared that the organization was breaking up, thru threats of "some of the realms" to secede and establish independent orders.

The petition alleged also that Imperial Wizard Evans had called a meeting in Washington, D. C. tomorrow and Saturday "of his personal henchmen thruout the invisible empire." It was charged that Dr. Evans and others intended to spend between $100,000 and $150,000 of the Klan's funds to pay the expenses of the Washington meeting. They were temporarily enjoined from such expenditure by order of the court.

Kloncilium Defendant. The Imperial kloncilium appointed by Imperial Wizard Evans in April were named defendants in the petition for a receiver together with certain employees of the Imperial palace.

There are one million, five hundred thousand members of the Klan, with branches in every state in the union, the petition stated adding that the receipts of the order in November, 1922, over and above the cost of propagation was one million dollars a year in addition to which each grand klan pay annually a per capita tax on each of its members of $1.80 which aggregated for the year 1922 the sum of $900,000 dollars.

In the month of November last the petition said, H. W. Evans, and William Joseph Simmons, "together with other confederates conceived and put into operation a scheme to pervert said organization from its original, worthy and laudable design and purpose into a personal machine for the enrichment and personal aggrandizement of said defendants."

Judge John D. Humphreys of the Fulton superior court ordered the defendants to show cause on June 9 why the petition should not be granted the defendants having the right to ask for an earlier hearing if desired.

ATTEMPT TO REMOVE REMAINS OF INDIAN PRINCESS PROTESTED

(By The Associated Press)

GRAVESSEND, Eng., May 31.—Another story of protest over the exhumation of long forgotten dead, reminiscent of that which attended the efforts of Lord Carnarvon and Howard Carter to resurrect King Tutankhamun, has greeted the attempts of scientists seeking to recover the remains of the Indian Princess Pocahontas, believed to be interred in the graveyard of the parish church in this little town on the Thames.

Edgar Page Gaston, of Chicago, the archeologist who led the modern excavating party which attempted secretly to unearth the bones of the Indian princess, was threatened by his pains by indignant Britons some of whom declared that if Gaston violated their dead he would be cursed by evil spirits and would "meet the same fate as Carnarvon." Undaunted by these threats and dire forebodings accompanied by a number of British anthropologists and physicians and armed with authority from the home office, Gaston, who asserts that he is a lineal descendant of Pocahontas, dug up more than a hundred skeletons yesterday while a crowd of hostile villagers peered thru the iron gates of the church yard.

Today's findings convinced Mr. Gaston and his associates that Pocahontas' body will ultimately be found.

AMERICA HAS NOT ONE REAL FRIEND AMONG ALL NATIONS

U. S. Suffering from Dose of Overconfidence Lewis Says

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 31.—America, creditor of all the great nations of the world is the object of the revenge of her former foes and the victim of the jealous hate of her former allies and has not one real friend among all the nations of the world, former Senator James Hamilton Lewis declared tonight in an address at the annual banquet of the military order of the World War.

Sounding the danger of a sudden Asiatic conquest that might prove America's undoing, the former senator said the United States was a victim of a severe dose of over-confidence and urged the need of an adequate navy and an efficient air service to repel foreign attack.

AMERICAN MINISTER IS AUTHORIZED TO NEGOTIATE TREATY

Grew Given Full Powers to Sign Treaty with Turkey

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Full powers to negotiate and sign a treaty or treaties of amity and commerce with Turkey, the state department announced today, have been cabled to Joseph C. Grew, American minister to Switzerland, now conducting conversations with Turkish delegates at Lausanne.

"Informal conversations," the department said in a formal statement, "have been proceeding between Mr. Grew and Ismet Pasha at Lausanne with a view to ascertaining whether a suitable basis could be found for the revision of existing treaties between the United States and Turkey. These conversations have reached a point where the department considered it opportune to authorize Mr. Grew to initiate more formal negotiations and to this end full powers to negotiate and sign a treaty or treaties of amity and commerce with Turkey were telegraphed to Mr. Grew on May 29. The conclusion of such negotiations is, of course, dependent upon a satisfactory adjustment of outstanding questions between the two countries."

It has been emphasized at the department that conversations between Mr. Grew and the Turkish delegation at Lausanne and previous conversations of the same character at the first session of the near east conference have been wholly informal and intended only to clear the way for the subsequent formal negotiations which now have been authorized. The preliminary conversations have served, however, it is understood, to round out a substantial agreement as to the general principles that are to be embodied in the new treaty with Turkey.

Points of particular interest to the Washington government under discussion at Lausanne have had to do with the treatment to be accorded American Nationals in Turkey which has been taken care of in the capitulations, now to be displaced by specific treaty agreement.

Presumably the Lausanne peace treaty negotiations have reached such a stage that Washington officials are confident that the pact will soon be signed and ratified. Negotiation of a new treaty between the United States and Turkey provides the method by which this government will participate in the agreements reached between Turkey and the allies having common application to American citizens and American interests. For that reason it seems unlikely that Mr. Grew will proceed with the separate treaty negotiation to the point of signature before the peace treaty has been completed and signed.

Held Conference with Pasha. Lausanne, May 31.—Joseph C. Grew, the American minister to Switzerland, had a long conference with Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation late tonight and impressed upon him the desirability of building up in the United States an atmosphere of confidence in Turkey. He advanced several suggestions relative to the powers of the foreign legal advisers.

Daily Progress Seen on Construction of New Building—Special Tests Insure Quality of All Materials—Soon to Begin Pouring Concrete for Vault.

The work on the new Elliott State Bank has now reached the point where progress will daily become more apparent. The time spent in wrecking the old buildings and making the unusually deep excavation required has been a period during which the progress was more than apparent. As soon as the excavations were completed in the East end of the building, pouring of concrete was started at that point, the work being carried toward the West as fast as the conditions permitted. At the present writing, practically all of the foundations, except the vault foundation, have been put in place, and the greater part of the outside basement walls. Forms have been built for the interior basement columns, and as soon as these are poured, forms for the first floor and sidewalk construction will be erected and this portion of the work put in place. The brick work for the piers which support the outside walls of the building has been well started.

Use Care With Materials
The utmost care is being exercised in the materials used. Portland cement for mortar and concrete is being subjected to the standard tests for this material, the tests being conducted by the American Bureau of Inspection and Tests, Chicago. The same firm has tested the reinforcing steel used in the building, as well as the sand and gravel used in the concrete work.

The special gravel for the vault concrete has been approved by the same concern, and the pouring of the first portion of the vault concrete will take place within a few days. As soon as this is in place, the erection of the steel protective reinforcing for the vault floors, walls and ceilings will be started. The protective reinforcing as well as doors and all vault work has been designed by Messrs E. A. Strauss and Son, Vault Engineers of Chicago, who are one of the leading firms in the United States in this branch of work, and who have recently designed the vaults for the Federal Reserve Bank in Chicago. The vault work is being manufactured by the Remington and Sherman Company of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, under the supervision of J. Strauss.

The exterior of the building will be in buff Bedford stone. Sub-Contracts Under Way Various contracts for the interior work in the building are well under way. The marble work, which is being handled by the Peoria Stone and Marble Works of Peoria, is now being manufactured. The same is true of the ornamental iron work and the interior wood finish. The interior woodwork is being made by the Crawford Lumber Company of Jacksonville. Preparatory work in connection with the plumbing, heating and wiring is in progress.

The general work on the building is in charge of the Keeley Brothers Contracting Company of East St. Louis, who have as their representative on the job, E. S. Erich. The utmost care is being given the construction and supervision of the work in every detail and the architects are cooperating with Mr. Erich so as to insure the execution of the work in the best possible manner.

Details of Stone Work
The architects have prepared details covering the entire exterior stone work in every particular. All the moldings which make up cornices and other ornamental members have been manufactured from full sections provided by the architects, and all carved ornaments have been cut from full sized models prepared under the architects supervision and approved by them. The stone work has been inspected at the plant before shipment was started. Preparation of the necessary details for all inside work such as marble, ornamental iron, wood finish, and the like, are now in progress, and every portion of the work is receiving the most careful attention not only as to design but as to the material and execution.

The structural steel for the building has been fabricated by the Illinois Steel Bridge Company of Jacksonville. The same concern has fabricated the protective steel for the vault. The steel sash which are used in most of the outside openings are being manufactured by the David Lupton's Sons Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Considering the character of the building, the progress to date has been encouraging, and the progress from now on will be much more apparent to the on-looker.

MANCHESTER
Manchester, May 31.—Memorial day was fittingly observed Wednesday afternoon, a program being carried out at the park. A splendid address was made by Rev. A. E. Cole of Roodhouse, and music was furnished by the Merritt band. The line of march was formed at the park, the graves of veterans at both the old and new cemeteries being decorated with flowers and flags. The school children led the procession, followed by the band, the Civil War veterans and the World War veterans. Rev. H. M. Ingram presided during the program.

E. L. Maine returned Thursday from a visit with relatives in Lees Summit, Mo.

Miss Ella Clark returned Monday to her home in Lincoln after a ten days' visit with her aunt, Mrs. V. E. Hughes.

Mrs. Lee Mellor of White Hall is visiting Mrs. Floyd Fitzsimmons.

George L. Davis of Tallula spent Wednesday at the home of G. D. Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wells and children and Miss Pearl Gidney of Jacksonville were among those who attended the Decoration Day program here.

Mrs. William Sargent of St. Louis is visiting her niece Mrs. Howard McCracken.

Old Jacksonville
BOYS OF THE LONG AGO
(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

Boys are interesting features in families, or on the landscape. You have known plenty of them, and liked them, even if you were a girl or young woman. You may even have cared for them, you women folks, the older they grew.

This column has seen names of some of them, but there were others—many others.

Charlie Massey
He comes to mind first, somehow. His people came here from New York about 1857, and first lived in Mrs. Wiswell's house, State and Westminster, or Oak it was then. He was lame, but a pretty bright fellow and he had two pretty sisters. A boy of that day, known as Gus Catlin, was much taken with one of them.

The Masseys moved away about the beginning of the War, say 1861 or '62, and we lost sight of Charlie and Gus had to hunt up another girl. He did.

Charlie Eames
Eames was a smaller boy physically than Massey, but about the same age, twelve or fourteen, in 1858. He stayed here as all old residents know, until about 1886, meantime becoming editor and proprietor of the Journal. He left some relics called Bev., and Charlie and Susy Charlie's people, like Massey, went to church where the Journal now persists.

Charlie Goltra
Goltra was a bright, very active and alert fellow. He lived on "Wellhead Row." His father was Cornelius S., and the latter's older brother, John W., had a son, Judson. He was a brother of Mrs. Marcus Hook and succeeded his father in the hat and cap business, where Frank Byrns is now.

Another Goltra, Moore C., had a younger boy Johnnie. He eloped with himself and his family to that hot place called California, to keep off old age.

The Coles
There were three Cole boys, sons of David, blacksmith West and Morgan. They were Ed, Ben and Clark. Ed was large and resembled his mother. He was a brave soldier in the 27th Ill. Ben was next. He did not hear very well, but he was a good fellow and honest as a greenback. Clark, the "kid" of the family, also got one of those glorious suits of blue and figured at meetings of the "vets," selling them badges and such things. He had a bright boy who was decorating Wall Street, New York, at last accounts.

Low Johnson
Johnson lived at the corner of State and West, where Morrison Worthington now hangs his single. Low was pretty long, to keep up with his name, Lewis Lewelyn Johnson. He wrote it on the roll of the 101st Illinois. At last accounts he was in Missouri—in which state this story is being written.

Beet Glover
Everybody knew "beet"—Lyman Beecher for short. He became editorial proprietor of the Journal and wandered away to Windy Town up on Lake Michigan and earned big salaries as theatrical critic and manager.

Then there was Marcus Hook, over where the Cloverleaf building is now going up. He helped hold up Ayers bank for years, as did his brother, Wm. S., millionaire of Los Angeles in street cars.

Henry Yates
Henry hardly needs to be introduced altho he went to Springfield with the Governor of Illinois, and senator in Washington. Henry's little brother, "Dickie," hit pretty much the same trail, altho he did not arrive in Jacksonville until 1860—with-out any baggage.

Phin Atkinson
"Phin" was captain of the East End boys company, rival to Glover's "Anderson Light Guard." He went away from Jacksonville pretty young, but he was all of a boy.

There were quite a number of others, easily recalled.

SALEM LUTHERAN CHURCH PICNIC
Was Held at Maple Grove School Thursday—Affair Was Great Success

The Salem Lutheran church held their annual school picnic yesterday during the day and evening at Maple Grove school and enjoyed the most successful picnic ever held by that church.

Music during the day was furnished by the Elite orchestra and in addition there were various contests all during the afternoon for the young folks and a fish-pond for everybody. A baseball game was played between the local church and the Arenzville church, resulting in a victory for Jacksonville, the score being 13 to 9. The batteries were: for Jacksonville, Carl and Frank Walter and Perbix; for Arenzville, Lovkamp, Witte, Roegge, and Nickel. The burgoo soup was all disposed of by three o'clock with many calls for more, and by night everything in the way of edibles had disappeared. Financially, the picnic was a grand success as practically all of the supplies had been donated. Dinner and supper were served and other refreshments during the intermediate parts of the day.

Committees from the Ladies' Aid society and the Luther Walthers Society were in charge of the stands.

Visitors were present from Arenzville, Chapin, Neeleyville and Berlin, and two young ladies, the Misses Audenkamp and Hoffmeyer of New York City were also present.

In addition to the program as given in Wednesday's Journal, George William Graubner gave a recitation, Closing Day, and a quartet composed of Vivian Wiegand, Charlotte Brune, Eleanor Buescher, and Helen Meyer, rendered "Smiles" and "Lullaby."

These names were unintentionally omitted by the committee furnishing the advance program.

HOPESTON RESIDENTS VISITORS IN CITY
Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Finley of Hopeston, Ill., have been spending the past few days with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fletcher of this city. The two gentlemen were raised at Hopeston and after attending high school together went to college in Ohio, graduating in the same class. Mr. Finley is the secretary of the executive committee of the Illinois Farm Bureau and also president of the Vermilion County Farm Bureau.

Mrs. Finley is Regent of the Hopeston Chapter of the D. A. R. and very active in this work. They visited the Duncan Memorial building and were greatly interested in the building and the historical material which it contains.

They were on their way to Tulsa, Okla., to visit a daughter who is teaching in the high school there but encountering bad roads in Missouri they turned back and returned to Hopeston, Thursday.

STRAWBERRIES
Cheapest car of the season. Ask your grocer for berries to can, to say.

W. S. CANNON PROD. CO. Distributor

Mrs. Albert Curry of Pisgah was a shopper in the city Thursday.

At the Thursday luncheon of the Kiwanis club at the Peacock Inn, Dr. R. V. Brokaw, county health officer, discussed some phases of the work in the city and county. Another guest of the day was Dr. C. E. Cole.

In his address Dr. Brokaw made reference to the comparatively small appropriation for health work and stressed the need as shown by statistics of improved sewerage conditions. In part Dr. Brokaw said:

Among the great problems of public health authorities today are the deaths from causes which have not as yet yielded greatly to preventive measures. Because we do not know the cause of cancer and therefore cannot successfully combat it, one out of every eight women who live to be over forty years of age, and one out of every fourteen men over forty years, are destined to die of this disease. At the present rate, one out of every 150 mothers giving birth to a living child is doomed to die as a result of childbirth.

The infant death rate at present claims every seventh or eighth child before it becomes a year old. These are appalling facts which demand our serious consideration.

Vaccination.
Among certain other diseases more satisfactory results have been obtained. Smallpox has yielded to vaccination, but there is great danger that this disease may break out violently again because of the growing tendency to disregard vaccination. Many city school systems demand that each child admitted shall present a certificate of successful vaccination against this disease.

I hope that the time is not far distant when our local school authorities will adopt this means of safe-guarding the health and life of the pupils.

Typhoid is a preventable disease and is unnecessary in these days of successful anti-typhoid inoculations. Typhoid is often contracted from a polluted water supply during the vacation trip.

By the Schick test it is possible to determine who are susceptible to diphtheria and by the injection of a toxin-antitoxin mixture it is possible to secure a permanent immunity against this disease. No parent should let a child run the risk of contracting diphtheria, when such a safe and reliable protection against the disease can be secured with practically no discomfort to the child.

Medical Inspection.
Medical inspection of school children is an important phase of public health work; and Jacksonville is making satisfactory provisions for this work.

The diagnostic school clinic recently established, which gives excellent medical examination facilities to the school children, marks a distinctive step in the program of school hygiene.

The Josephine Milligan health school offers exceptional opportunities to the child of normal mentality who may be physically below par. More than 700 cases of communicable disease have been handled by the health department in Morgan county during the past year. This demands a great deal of work when it is necessary at times to drive 15 miles to quarantine a single case. By the establishment of modified quarantine regulations, which makes it possible for the wage earner to continue his work, the city has saved $1,000 during the past year by eliminating the expense of provisioning such families during the quarantine period.

Isolation Hospital.
The proposed isolation hospital project fostered by the Passavant Memorial hospital is of great importance as a community asset. It will be a liability to the hospital trustees, and on these grounds the proposition deserves the fullest public support.

Thirty-three cases of typhoid fever have been reported to the health department during the past year, with seven deaths. This rate, which is frightfully and unnecessarily high is an indication of the awful lack of adequate sewage facilities. The need of improvement along these lines is most urgent and until some relief is obtained, additional deaths from typhoid fever must be expected.

The question has been raised as to why the collection and disposal of garbage and rubbish is restricted. If you could hear the complaints due to the creation of nuisances by irresponsible parties during this work, you would appreciate the need of this restriction and control.

Relative Tax Rates.
The appropriation ordinance which the city recently adopted showed the following per capita expenditures for 1923:

Streets and public improvements $1.35; fire department $1.20; police department $.90; health department $.30. It is hardly possible that these figures really represent the relative values that you place upon fire protection, police protection and health protection.

The assessed valuation of the city of Jacksonville is six million dollars, which means that the real values are twelve millions. Of this you may well be proud. But let me remind you that your greatest assets are not your paved streets, your bank buildings, your fine school properties and your libraries—your greatest assets are your boys and girls. Is it not reasonable to ask that you make provision for the protection of their health and life, which shall at least be commensurate with the protection you afford your properties.

Miss Ethel Chapman was a visitor from Bluffs Thursday.

Why Were You Given Two Eyes?
If you see with one eye only your judgment of position is very much impaired.

We rarely realize that almost every one is equipped with unequal eyes—that is, one of them is stronger than the other.

The reason this fact is not noticeable to you is because the stronger eye does all the work—while the weaker one scarcely ever attempts to do anything.

SANITARY ENGINEER IS CALLED BY DEATH

S. L. Miller Passes Away in City Thursday Morning After Brief Illness—Was Employee of Caldwell Engineering Co. and Well Known.

Samuel Leslie Miller, a sanitary engineer in the employ of the Caldwell Engineering company of this city, died at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at Passavant hospital. Altho Mr. Miller's health had been poor for a number of months, the fact was not generally known to his friends and news of his death came as a shock.

He had been subject to kidney disease for more than a year, and high blood pressure developed. He continued his work with the engineering firm until May 15. The evening of that day he took to his bed, and his condition became so serious Tuesday that he was removed to the hospital.

Mr. Miller had been a resident of Jacksonville for more than two years and through his work with the engineering company came to know a large number of people. He was popular with his business associates and with officials whom he came in contact with while working on city projects. He was an engineer of more than ordinary ability, and had he lived would probably have become a member of the firm by which he was employed.

The decedent came here from Springfield where he had been assistant engineer of the Illinois Department of Public Health. Previous to that time he was engaged in work with the state water survey, and before coming to Springfield was an instructor in the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

Mr. Miller had an active part in the construction of the city's new water and power plant, and was superintendent of operation for a time after it was completed.

He was 38 years of age and leaves his wife and three children. The family home is on West Lafayette avenue.

Arrangements for the funeral are not complete.

REMINISCENCES OF CASS

A prominent resident of this city at one time, many years ago, lived in Cass county. He says he well knew a family there of twenty one children, all of one father and one mother, and the father wasn't very enterprising or energetic either. However they managed to get along and prove the old time saying that a man with a large family gets along just as well as a man with few children.

During the war Captain Conover came home on furlough and brought along his body servant, a stalwart young African. The citizens held meeting and informed the captain that the colored boy must go and that immediately at once, or he would be removed by force.

The gentlemen had with him one or two relatives and replied that the boy would stay just as long as his master and the first man who dared invade the premises would be received with a bullet.

They knew him to be a man of his word and though at night a number of horsemen paraded by moonlight along the road in front of the captain's home none deemed it wise to enter and when the officer's furlough expired he went back to his command taking his boy along. When the war was over he came home bringing the colored youth again. That time the people took a more sensible view of the matter and the young fellow was permitted to stay and he even fraternized with a number of the captains neighbors with whom he was a pleasant companion. That experience is a reminder of Hay's poem, Banty Time, which tells of a union officer who brought along a colored youth who saved his life on the battlefield of Vicksburg. Some resolutions were sent the officer and he replied:

"You may rezoloot till the cows come home.

But one of you teches that boy. He'll rassel his hash in hell tonight.

Or may name's not Tillman Joy."

Walter Long was a Thursday caller from Litterberry.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL HAS MANY GRADUATES

Commencement Exercises for Large Class to be Held This Afternoon at David Prince Building—Superintendent to Present Diplomas.

One hundred and thirty-eight young people will receive diplomas of graduation from the junior high school at the commencement exercises to be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the David Prince auditorium. Of the 121 graduates in the regular class, 146 have already signed up to enter the freshmen class in high school next September, a total of 98 per cent. Of the five not registered, two are moving out of town, resulting in an actual loss of only three students in the change from the eighth grade to the high school. The graduation program this afternoon will take the form of a pageant, "Children of the Pilgrims," in which a majority of the class will participate. Diplomas will be presented by Supt. B. F. Shafer. ### EIGHT THOROBRED RACE HORSES BURN

CLEVELAND, O., May 31.—Eight thorobred race horses and a pony were burned to death in a fire which destroyed five barns at the Ohio State Jockey club race track at Maple Heights near Bedford, Ohio, late tonight. Nearly 150 racers were trapped in the barns and that not more were lost was due to the heroism of scores of race goers and attendants who cut the animals loose and let them at large. Several were so badly burned they may have to be destroyed.

Those killed were well known to followers of the running race horse. They were Susana, a three year old winner of two events at the present meeting; Huron II, (7) and Shortstop (8) owned by J. A. Parsons of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Long Island (4), Portlight (10), Mable (5), and the Ulster (3) in the stables of A. S. Eastman of Toledo. All have been winners on various tracks of America. The eighth horse was unidentified.

Portlight lost his life, when, after being cut loose, he ran back into the flames.

Starting in one of the barns when an oil stove is said to have exploded, the fire, fed by hay and straw spread quickly to adjoining buildings and in a few moments the entire back stretch was a mass of flames. The horses were just entering the home stretch in the fifth event when the fire was discovered, but a majority of the fans did not wait for the finish and headed for the barns a quarter of a mile from the grand stands.

The loss to the stables was placed at $12,500 by General Manager F. N. Holman. The loss on the animals could not be learned but it may run as high as $100,000.

The sixth and seventh races were delayed but were run off. The sixth was won by Blazonry, one of the animals rescued.

COLLEGE ATHLETES WORK OUT ON TRACK

Teams From Knox, Lombard and Monmouth Appear in Suits on Illinois Field and Try Out Track—Record Holders and Possible Winners Show Prowess.

A number of athletes of distinction in the I. I. A. C. arrived here yesterday for the meet which opens with the preliminaries this afternoon. Teams from Knox, Monmouth and Lombard are on the ground. Lombard entries which have not previously been published are as follows: Swanson, Lamb, Allen, Ecklund, Barringer, Murphy, Myers, Thompson, Hart and Drager. A number of the men who have distinguished themselves in the previous meets were out yesterday afternoon working out on the track and in the field. Swan son of Lombard, who set new records in the 100 and 220 yard dashes last year, was a sprinter who can take nearly anything on the track in short runs. He stepped the 100 yard in 9 4-5, and the 220 yd. in 22 2-5, setting new records in both at the 1922 meet. Swanson's team mate Thompson is a husky weight man, and last year was Mellon's chief contender in the discus. From Monmouth have come the Niblock brothers, both fast quarter milers and both entered in this event. Last year C. Niblock placed second in the quarter, and F. Niblock placed fourth in the half. This time Monmouth has Congdon, the fast half miler, who ran against Illinois in the recent dual meet and stepped the half in 1:58. Congdon is hoped to set a new conference record in this event Saturday.

Mann, of Monmouth, was also on the fields yesterday, practicing with the javelin and jumping a few hurdles. At the 1922 meet he ran both hurdle races, placing fourth in the 220 yd. and fifth in the 120 yd. Eric Rhind of Knox is another star. He was out yesterday stepping around for the quarter. He runs it in 50 4-5. The track was dragged yesterday and is in good shape. The tennis courts suffered from the recent heavy rain and considerable work was required to put them in shape for the matches to start this morning.

MINSTREL PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN AT WHITE HALL

Epworth League of M. E. Church Plans Novel Entertainment to Raise Funds for District Convention.

White Hall, June 1.—The prevailing popularity of local minstrels is being taken advantage of by the Epworth League of the M. E. church to provide funds for the entertainment of the district convention in White Hall on June 19 and 20. The minstrels will be held in the gymnasium Saturday evening for a small admission fee. They are announced as the Dixie Minstrels, featuring some new talent that rehearsals have determined to be headliners, including Luther Gardiner, Robert March, Ennis Tunison, etc.

The plan of financing the coming of the district convention is a popular one, as the usual method of raising funds by popular subscription has been worn out in White Hall with the better methods coming into use. This point will be an aid in encouraging a large attendance at the minstrel performance Saturday evening.

The raising of funds by subscription is to be largely abandoned also by the promoters of the huge Fourth of July dedication and celebration. This is an event in which everybody has an interest, and there are plenty of general and public funds that should be made available to aggregate an amount to meet the demands of the huge proportions that the Fourth event is assuming as a county affair.

PROTESTANT PICNIC PARADE PLANS MADE

Arrangements Well Under Way for Morgan County Protestant Picnic Parade Next Thursday Morning, June 7.—Places Assigned to Delegations

Further arrangements were made last night for the parade of the Morgan county Protestant picnic, which promises to be a large and important feature of the picnic. The parade committee at a meeting Thursday evening at the Auto Inn, worked out parade details and outlined the line of march, assigning places to delegations from churches in all parts of the county.

J. G. Berger is the chief marshal and has for his aides W. H. Crum, Amos Coker, Charles H. Story and Charles S. Black. It has been the purpose of the committee to find some representative to take charge of the parade organization for one church, although in some instances it has been found best to group several churches under one director, who is authorized to select such assistants as may be needed.

It was made plain at the committee meeting last night that each and every Protestant church is expected to take part in the parade and picnic, even if the committee has not been able to get in direct touch with the church and name a director. It is hoped that in churches where parade directors have not been appointed that some member will take the matter up on behalf of the church and notify the committee.

The parade is to move promptly at 10:30 a. m. Thursday, June 7, and delegations must be in line half an hour earlier in order to assure promptness. The head of the parade will rest on West State street, west of Prairie street. As the first three sections of the parade move east along West State street, the six sections on Prairie street, six on Kosciusko street, six on Fayette street and seven on Church street, are expected to fall in line.

All persons will travel in automobiles except band members, pastors and members of the Men's Bible classes, who will walk from Prairie street along State street and the public square, down South Main street to College street. There, cars will be in waiting for them and the movement of the parade to Nichols park will continue.

Order of Parade

The community band will lead the parade and there will also be bands from Merritt and Waverly. The order of the parade will be as follows:

GRADUATION RECITAL AT NORTHMINSTER

Creditable Program Given by Pupils of the Conservatory.

Last evening in Northminster church was given the annual Graduation Recital of the Conservatory. The program, which was not of extreme length, was performed by candidates for Teacher's Certificate of Diploma, all of whom acquitted themselves creditably. An audience of moderate size, owing to many competing events, showed its appreciation by close attention and enthusiastic applause.

The program was opened by Clarence Richardson, formerly a student at the I. S. B., who has now charge of the music at the State hospital. He played the Beethoven Sonata, op. 90, with accuracy and true understanding. Miss Marjorie Black sang an aria from Don Carlos, which she had already given at her recital in Academy Hall, and she brought to her task the same command of breath and enunciation, together with an admirable repose of manner. The third number was a two-piano composition by Debussy entitled "Spring" in which Virginia Spink was assisted by Miss Fredin, a recipient of a Teacher's Certificate in Piano in 1922.

This charming piece was played with good expression and ensemble, some lovely tone effects and nuances being achieved. Miss Katherine Parker offered as her contribution to the program the beautiful Pilgrim's Song of Tchaikowski with its striking text by Tolstol, and pleased her hearers immensely by her lovely singing and stage presence. The fifth number was the brilliant Variations on a Beethoven Theme by Saint-Saens, in which Alvin Wessler had the first piano part and Mr. Munger the second. Mr. Wessler is to be congratulated on his steady improvement, and showed an excellent control of octaves as well as a sense of rhythm. The familiar Aria from Mme. Butterfly was next given by Miss Hilda Van Tuyl, who sings this suave melody with beautiful tone and good phrasing.

Miss Clara Smith, whose playing is well known in Jacksonville, gave an excellent reading of the Waldstein Sonata of Beethoven, accomplishing some smooth, fast work and showing a commendable command of climax. The only violin number of the evening was given next by Miss Mary Laird, who also received the only diploma. She played the difficult Ballade and Polonaise with surprising maturity of conception and good lowering and phrasing. The final number of Liszt's bravura, piece, the Hungarian Fantasy performed by Miss Eunice Northrup with splendid abandon and brilliancy. The orchestral part was done by Mr. Munger on a second piano.

After the program Teacher's Certificates were presented by President Hammelkamp as follows: In piano, to Miss Eunice Northrup, Clara Inogen Smith and Virginia Spink. Messrs. Clarence Richardson and Alvin Wessler, in voice to Misses Marjorie Vardiman Black, Katherine Parker and Hilda Van Tuyl; in public school music to Miss Neva Opal Windmiller; in expression to Misses Velma Matthews and Narr. The accompaniments were played satisfactorily by Misses Ruth Dorwart and Catherine Wilson; Messrs. Kritch and Frank Collins, Jr.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS
IN SPECIAL PROGRAM

Class Day Exercises With Class Features Enjoyed by Large Audience—Honor J's Awarded.

Class day exercises of the Jacksonville high school drew a great audience to the auditorium Thursday night. The program was of an intimate kind, relating the activities of the class as a whole and its members individually thru the four years.

There were various clever features and the occasion was made a notable feature of the commencement program. Greatings were extended and the senior book presented to the juniors by George Wetzel, president of the senior class.

The acceptance was given by Floyd Sanders, president of the junior class.

King Tut's Tomb has been searched for the scroll of class history as read by Helen Walton. This history proved to be a prophecy delivered thousands of years ago by the ancient king and its correctness was verified by the actual class happenings during the years 1919 to 1923.

Mary Edith Baumgartner sang a vocal solo with fine effect, her accompanist being Lois Harney. The class prophecy was given by Earl Hoover and Clarence Souza. These young men read from a newspaper paragraphs making reference to practically every member of the class, and of course the paragraphs were written in facetious vein. Allen Kelly and Albert Bray in their band duet were so well received that they responded to an encore.

The valedictory was given by Lavinia Scott, in an impressive way who stressed the thought in the class motto that the one who conquers self is certain to win. Lines from Kipling were quoted fitting in with the thought of the motto. This well given address was followed by a trio, Allen Kelly, Albert Bray and Harold Kamm who sang two songs acceptably.

In the class will, which was written in customary legal form, Henry Irving made bequests for each senior to come to the faculty and to various students. It was the purpose to make bequests especially suitable for the legatee and there were many quips that brought laughter from the audience.

J Awards Made
Following custom, W. L. Kaiser, principal of the high school, presented the silver J awards for various accomplishments as follows:

Allen Kelly Edith Rayle, Harry Furry, Caroline Doope, Lee Baldwin, Edward Hill, Tri-City debate.

Ralph Corbridge, Harry Stone, John Morris, Russel Deatherage quartet.

Eleanor Andre, Lyndie Conboy, Interscholastic.

Lavinia Scott, Crimson J. editor.

M. Eva Hackett, Exhaust editor.

John Hackett, stage manager.

Mr. Kaiser also presented silver J's to Harold Kamm and Lawrence Laney, cheer leaders.

Then the presentation of J certificates was made by Coach J. L. Mitchell who explained that these honors were awarded for proficiency in basket ball, football and track work if the required showing was also made in studies.

Gifts for the Class

Then came the presentation of trophies. A goat harnessed to a covered wagon with much pulling and pushing and with the enticement of ears of corn, was persuaded to come on the stage. The wagon was laden with gifts, each one labeled for a member of the class. Dorothy Cully and John Hackett in charge of the "Goat Getters Wagon" read off the names and as each token was delivered some sentiment accompanied it. The failings and foibles of the class were handled without gloves and this feature of the program proved a great laugh producer.

As a final number came the class song, written by Lavinia Scott, with Eleanor Stoldt as accompanist. This chorus of more than 120 voices was a real feature of the class day program.

FAST ALTON HUMMER
KILLS PRENTICE MAN

Amos Holmes Found by Brother Thursday Morning Lying in Road Near Tracks—Was Well Known and Aged Resident of Community

Amos Holmes, a bachelor aged 73, residing at Prentice, was struck and instantly killed by the Chicago & Alton Hummer at Prentice between 2:30 and 3 o'clock Thursday morning.

Deceased lived with his brothers Isaac and Allen in Prentice and according to the testimony at the inquest he had been under medical treatment for about six weeks for organic heart trouble, and had been in the habit lately of getting up several times each night and sitting up for a while. On Thursday morning he got up about 2 o'clock and sat in a chair just outside of the door according to the testimony offered at the inquest by Isaac Holmes, who said that he dropped to sleep for a few minutes and on awakening and missing his brother from the chair about 3 o'clock he started a look for him and found his body in a road about twenty feet from the tracks, with both legs severed and his body otherwise badly mangled.

Coroner Rose was notified and left at 6 o'clock yesterday morning to hold the inquest. Before he left, which was composed of J. H. Hubbs, foreman; V. H. Lockett, Henry Isaacs, William P. Newell, Charles Davis, Jr., and Earl Weakley, the two brothers testified as above and stated that they could not explain how the deceased came to be on the tracks unless he might have crossed the tracks for a drink of water, their home being only 100 feet northwest of the tracks.

Dr. J. L. Raines of Ashland testified that he had been treating the deceased for organic heart trouble as stated above and said that his condition was such that he might have dropped lead at any time, and that he had never had the appearance of being morose or despondent.

As the jury was unable to determine whether he came to his death by accident or suicide, their verdict read: "We are jury, after examining Allen Holmes and Isaac Holmes, brothers of the deceased, find that the deceased came to his death by being struck by C. & A. train No. 10, northbound, this 31st day of May, 1923, at about 2:30 or 3 o'clock A. M."

The remains were taken in charge by an Ashland undertaker and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

PESKY BED-BUGS

(Pesky Devils) P. D. Q. is the new chemical that puts the everlasting to the Pesky bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants and cooties—impossible for the pesky devils to exist where P. D. Q. is used.

Recommendations of Hotels, Hospitals, Railroad Companies and other public institutions are a guarantee to the public that the safest, quick and most economical way of eradicating the pesky insects is by the use of P. D. Q., as this chemical kills the eggs as well as the live ones, and will not injure the clothing.

A six ounce package makes a full quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas or cooties—also contains a patent sprayer to get the nests in the hard-to-get-at places and save juice.

P. D. Q. can also be purchased in sealed bottles, double strength, liquid form.

Pennsylvania Hard Coal For 1923

The eastern states have just gone through their greatest coal shortage. There is no assurance that the spring and summer tonnage will ever get caught up with the demand in 1923.

On September 1st the Present Mine Wage Scale on Hard Coal Expires

The hard coal miners want more money. Their low day pay scale is about $5.00. The low day scale for soft coal miners is about $7.50. This is what the hard coal miners are asking for. It looks like more money and higher priced coal or a strike. Take your pick and take your chances.

Get Your Hard Coal Early and You Are Safe. Prices will not change much this year. The most important factor now in anthracite is that of getting it. It will be impossible to make up the lost tonnage and the east will be given the preference. So the wise householder will get his coal now while it can be obtained.

MAYOR DEVER SAYS BOXING IS DEAD SPORT

CHICAGO, May 31.—"Boxing is a dead sport," Mayor William E. Dever declared tonight when informed that James Mullen, promoter of last Tuesday's engagement between Benny Leonard and Pinkie Mitchell, which ended in a fist fight between spectators, had failed to appear in court to face a charge of promoting a prize fight.
City Attorneys claimed Mullen had agreed to test the stringent provisions of the Illinois anti-prize fight law by allowing himself to be arrested and carrying the case to the supreme court.
Mullen's case was continued for a week but John Gallagher who was a spectator at last Tuesday night's fight, was arrested charged with looking at the match and this may be made a test case.
The city which for several months past has been enjoined by injunctions obtained by promoters from interfering in the boxing matches will in the future obtain injunctions against the promoters prohibiting the matches. City Attorneys said today after Mayor Dever had declared that boxing matches would no longer be permitted.

MITCHELL WANTS TO MEET LEONARD AGAIN

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 31.—Pinkie Mitchell, Milwaukee boxer, still retains the junior welterweight championship belt regardless of the outcome of the contest with Benny Leonard in Chicago Tuesday night according to Judge A. J. Hedding, father of the Wisconsin boxing law and chairman of the commission in charge of the junior welterweight emblem.

The commission has ruled. Judge Hedding stated, that inasmuch as the legality of holding the contest in Illinois was in question and further that Leonard having refused to weigh in on the afternoon preceding the contest compels the commission to make its ruling definite.

Pinkie Mitchell is anxious for a return match with the lightweight champion either as a lightweight or in the junior welter class. He is willing to meet Leonard in New York or Milwaukee or before any legalized boxing club in any city where the sport is permitted.

Indian Battle Ground Scene of Shelby's Fourth of July Party

By NEA Service

Shelby, Mont.—Another war cry soon will reverberate thru Toole county's jagged bluffs—last stronghold of the once powerful Sioux.

The stretch of rugged prairie, where the tattered remnants of one of the mightiest tribes in the old west made their final stand, will become a battle ground again.

But the combatants won't be grotesquely painted savages. Tomahawks, war clubs and stolen carabines will be supplanted by padded mitts.

This historical Indian battle-field—unmarked today by even a single arrowhead—will be the scene of the greatest paleface fight of the year.

It is not to be a death struggle between hostile tribes, but a Shelby, scene of the Dempsey-Gibbons titular heavyweight classic, July 4th, is only a little Montana oil town, but it is booming! Half of its population lives in tents as this picture shows. Drilling operations are going on in all directions. Most of the folks who come to the fight will have to do their slumbering in sleeping cars. Miles of special tracks are being constructed.

Here on the afternoon of July 4, Tom Gibbons of St. Paul will strive to wrest the world's heavyweight championship belt from Jack Dempsey, superman of the squared circle.

The arena in which these modern gladiators meet in a twentieth century Roman festival is being built upon ground that once ran red with Indian blood.

Upon it stood the gaudily decorated tepees of the gallant Sioux in the winter of 1885-86, before the Blackfeet hordes swooped down upon them.

Blackfeet scouts came down from the mountains and counted the Sioux numbers and horses. Then they reported back to their chiefs. A war council followed. The battle cry of the oncoming Blackfeet echoed through the hills. A raid was on. The Sioux ranks, broken and leaderless, fled in disorder into Dakota.

That battle, fought just a mile west of here, still is fresh in the memories of many of Shelby's earlier residents.

Shelby first was a "tank town"—source of supplies for cattle and sheep men, "liquoring" up place for cowboys and frontiersmen. Then it became a center of agricultural interests. Now it is a booming oil town, growing so rapidly that half of its population lives in tents.

Huge derricks can be seen nearby. Twenty-five miles north of here are many active operations. Drilling for "liquid gold" is going on constantly. Real estate men are busy, and scores of business men from other parts come in daily, seeking possible locations here.

Yes, Shelby's glory is just beginning!

The total number of men put into training up to the present time is 163,764. There are in training today 93,019. These 93,019 trainees are divided up as follows: 47,887 are in institutional training that is, in universities, colleges and schools, other than strictly Bureau schools; 35,753 are in placement training, that is, "training on the job," in industry; 1,913 are in schools operated by the Bureau; 4,296 are pursuing correspondence school instruction; and 170 are receiving tutorial instruction.

The Government's Aims.
The United States Government is trying, through the Vocational Rehabilitation Act of Congress, to discharge, in a measure, its obligations to its defenders who were in some way injured by reason of their service in the war so that they could not carry on profitably in their pre-war occupation. It also recognizes the fact that if these men are given suitable vocational training they will become productive factors in the country's upbuilding rather than governmental dependents.

In inducting these men into training an earnest endeavor is made by the Bureau to so weigh their capacities and incapacities that they will be able, in a reasonable length of time, through their training to equip themselves for carrying on in a normal and competitive way with others engaged in the occupation for which they are being trained.

Nature of Training.
The training that these men get is, so far as the Bureau can determine, of the very highest grade available. The very best universities, colleges and schools of the country are utilized for all of those who are desirous of attending them, and who, at the same time, are capable of profitably pursuing courses in them. For special cases the Bureau has seen fit to set up special schools where instruction could be particularly fashioned to suit the particular needs of the students sent to them.

As stated in the aforementioned statistics, 35,753 men are in placement training, or "training on the job," in thousands of factories, shops, on the farms, and scattered over every state in the United States.

Rehabilitation and Employment.
The U. S. Veterans' Bureau has rehabilitated, up to the present date, 30,647 of these men, practically all of whom are now "carrying on" in employment in line with their course of training. That the training which these men have received is wise training, and that these men are now carrying on profitably for themselves, profitably for industry, and profitably for the country as a whole, is evidenced by the fact that all the statistics available in the Central Office at Washington, and in various District Offices where concrete studies have been made of the economic status of the men following in their rehabilitation by the Bureau, show that these rehabilitated veterans are receiving remuneration for their work to the amount of at least 20 per cent in excess of their pre-war income. In other words, the handicap received by these men in the war has been overcome by reason of the efforts put forth in connection with their rehabilitation through the Veterans' Bureau. In addition their earning power already shows an increase of 20 per cent. It is more than fair to presume that the percentage of gain in income will increase as the years go by.

Government "Carries on" Well.
Therefore, the government has in the main, done its work well. It is true that in some cases it has failed. These failures have appeared, large, naturally, in the minds of those particularly affected by these failures. Due to the country's commendable interests of the cases of each and every one of these veterans a ready ear has been given to their complaint. Due to this too ready inclination of some people to seize upon the "exceptional case to prove the rule" it is safe to say that great injustice has been done the country as a whole and its duly organized government in making it appear that it has not carried on ably, wisely and sympathetically in the way of attempting to discharge its obligations to those in whom it has such a deep interest.

Government Now Calls Upon Employees.

The government is now at the point in its work with these men where it must necessarily call upon industry and the people at large to take up the burden, or the privilege, as they see it, in connection with further obligations to these men. Many thousands more are to be rehabilitated, or made ready for employment, during the next few months. It is the earnest desire of the government to rehabilitate all of the men as quickly as possible. At the same time it is the desire of the government to rehabilitate when wisely and well, so they will be able to carry on profitably for themselves and for industry. So it is this trained and finished product of the rehabilitated man that the United States government asks industry to employ.

WHITE HALL PLANS JULY 4TH PROGRAM

Headstones of the Revolutionary Soldiers to Be Dedicated as Part of July 4th Program—Other White Hall News.

White Hall, May 31.—One of the forcible incidents connected with arrangements for the dedication of the Revolutionary headstones at White Hall on July 4th afforded by the visit this week of Harry B. Baker, of Topeka, Kansas. The visitor is a son of Bruce Baker of Chanute, Kansas, who formerly resided in White Hall, and during the Civil War served with Company I, 91st Illinois Infantry, and a great grandson of Michael Baker of the War of the Revolution. The visitor's quest for family information found plans under way for the dedication to include his great grandfather's memory. The thing impressed him as so remarkable that he returned to Kansas with the intention of making the fact known to the great Topeka papers. The idea of there being so many Revolutionary graves as far west as White Hall, Illinois, is the big point that impressed Mr. Baker. He says he never heard of such a thing in Kansas.

A communication from A. A. Barton of 310 North Pine street, Indianapolis, Indiana, asks for information concerning a brother, James A. Barto, who was last heard from at 83 1/2 High street, Springfield, Illinois, and he adds that he has reason to believe that the missing brother has been at or near White Hall or Roodhouse. Any information will be appreciated.

Miss Louise Miesebach has returned from a sojourn at Moline, Ill.

Lynn V. Vermillion and family have arrived from Baker, Oregon, for an extended stay.

Abscess of the head has been determined as the cause of the death of the infant of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nolan, residing six miles southwest of White Hall. The mother is a daughter of George Berline, a prominent farmer. The burial was in the White Hall cemetery.

START TOUR OF LINCOLN CIRCUIT

Springfield, Ill. — Members of the Lincoln Circuit Marking Association on June 11 will start a tour of the old English judicial circuit, which Lincoln rode when he was a practicing lawyer, to inspect markers already erected to mark the circuit and to dedicate new ones. Starting from Lincoln's tomb, the party will be met at each county line by a committee from the local Daughters of the American Revolution, who will conduct them through their country. It is planned to make this tour an annual custom in memory of Lincoln.

The Mayonnaise makes the Salad

... and Carnation makes the mayonnaise, the smoothest, creamiest, most delicious dressing you ever served. For making salad dressings as in all your cooking, for creaming coffee, fruits and cereals, wherever milk is needed in the home—use Carnation. It is pure milk "from contented cows." About 60% of the water is removed by evaporation. The milk is then hermetically sealed and sterilized. Your grocer is the Carnation Milkman—order from him today.

NO-EGG MAYONNAISE DRESSING
1/2 cup salt, 2 tbsp. Carnation Milk, 1 tsp. lemon juice or vinegar, 1 cup oil, 1/2 cup paprika.

Think of Oil in Terms of 1923

IN considering the oil business as it is today, we must think in terms of 1923 and not in terms of 1913—which was before such unheard of impetus had been given to the automotive industry.

In 1913 there were but 1,287,000 motor vehicles registered in the United States, while the year ending December 31, 1922, saw a total registration of 12,239,114—an increase of 900%.

The magnitude of the oil business is so vast that no man can visualize it clearly. It is difficult to picture the needs of 12 1/4 million automobiles, to say nothing of the vast gallonage needed to supply tractors, stationary gas engines, and the demand for gasoline coming from the arts and industries generally.

The problem of supplying 12 1/4 million cars is quite different from the problem confronting the industry a decade ago when but 1 1/4 million cars were in commission.

The adaptation to a changing situation meant the making over of the petroleum industry.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has retained its leadership by expanding its facilities both in the manufacture and distribution rapidly enough to meet the insistent demand for greater service.

During the past ten years the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has grown as the need for its products and service has grown. This ever-increasing demand for petroleum products has made it necessary for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to expand its facilities to an extraordinary degree. Yet, with its multiplied facilities, the Company finds that all its energies are absorbed in meeting the demand for its products from 30 million people in the ten Middle Western States it serves.

While proud of the service it has rendered in the past, the Standard Oil Company today is thinking in terms of 1923 and the years to come.

BUTTER MARKET STRONGER THURSDAY

CHICAGO, May 31.—Moderate supplies, a fair demand and more confidence in the situation gave the butter market here today a little more strength. Jobbers did not buy much ahead of their needs but a few orders for butter to go into storage together with the fact that receipts were inclined to store their fine marks in preference to taking a loss gave top scores more support.

Lower scores found support in good demand altho buyers tried hard to get concessions and in some cases got them. The car market was firmer and more active with prices practically unchanged.

SHORTS RUN UP MAY CORN PRICE

CHICAGO, May 31.—Indications that France and Germany were near to a settlement had a general bullish effect on the grain markets today and the corn pit was further enlivened by belated shorts who ran up the price of May corn at rapid rate in the last few minutes of the board of trade session. Corn finished strong at 1c to 3/4c gain. May 8 1/2;
the top price of the day with July 7 1/2 to 7 3/4. Wheat closing unsettled at a range varying from 1/4c decline to 1 1/2c advance, July $1.13 1/2 to $1.14 and Sept. $1.13 1/2 to $1.14 1/2. In oats the outcome was 1/4c off to 3/4c up and in provisions unchanged to 7c higher.

The brief flurry in the corn market was confined to the hour of delivery and appeared to result chiefly from the fact that a greater number of traders than usual time limit had almost expired before effecting month-end settlement of contracts. Aside from the circumstance that all the grain markets showed an upward trend today, the corn market reflected continued scarcity of receipts. Besides kossip was current that the after-the-planting movement of corn to market was already over.

In addition to optimism as to a prospective agreement between France and Germany bullish reports about crop conditions in Western Europe tended to lift the price of wheat.

Scattered liquidation here, however, on the part of holders of May wheat made the market nervous and irregular, especially as offerings of July and September were scarce at times and shorts in those months who wished to cover found it difficult to do so except at a material advance.

Oats were helped upward by the strength of corn. With crop reports good, tho, as to oats, advances failed. The market for provision market showed sympathy with the firmness of hog values.
